

Clever computers

Telephones past and present: Possible answers

What features have changed?	What features have stayed the same?
There are no wires. They are smaller. They are portable and can be carried in schoolbags and pockets. Old phones only had one function – to allow people to speak to each other. The phone had to be wound up to work. New phones have on/off buttons. Modern phones have touch screens. Modern phones come in different colours. Modern phones can break if dropped. New phones need to be charged. New phones have touch screens. People can now choose to see each other when they speak (eg Facetime)	People can still speak to each other. Phones still make noise to let you know someone is calling. Old phone and new phones have a microphone to speak into.